Game Warden

The Life of a Wyoming Game Warden is...

- A 24-hour-a-day job
- A full-time responsibility
- “The greatest job in the world,” says North Pinedale Game Warden Bubba Haley.

Though wardens in many states spend the bulk of their time on law enforcement, Wyoming’s wardens have many responsibilities, as you’ll note below.

Part of the job’s attraction is never quite knowing what the day will hold-whether trapping bears, darting and transplanting moose, flying in a helicopter to count bighorn sheep, getting a deer out of a resident’s backyard, hazing 1,000 elk out of a rancher’s field, talking to hunters, or catching poachers. They are wildlife biologists, wildlife law enforcement officers, wildlife educators, problem solvers, and ambassadors to landowners, hunters, anglers and communities throughout Wyoming. Wardens are considered the local “expert” when constituents want to find out what’s going on with their wildlife and their department. Additional information is available on the Wyoming Game Wardens Association’s website.

Wildlife Management/Data Collection & Analysis

Collect/summarize wildlife data, from both ground and air, to determine distribution, abundance, recruitment, hunter harvest, and mortality causes of wildlife. Work with wildlife biologists and neighboring game wardens on hunting season strategies and recommendations. Sample wildlife for research and disease surveillance.

Enforcement of Game and Fish Laws and Regulations

Enforce/check compliance with hunting, fishing, trapping and watercraft statutes and regulations as well as littering and state land camping, open fires, and closed/off road travel restrictions. Write enforcement reports, attend court, work with other enforcement agencies, conduct investigations, and collect intelligence. Carry and maintain law enforcement weapons and gear.
